

- Extraversion:

It defines how social and energetic a person is Extraversion (B5E): The level of the outgoing nature of the participant with the score range [2, 10].

It can be categorized into high extraversion and low extraversion

High [extroverts handle stress differently]	low
outgoing	quiet
talkative	reserved
Energetic, enjoys social interaction	Prefers alone time

- Agreeableness

It defines kindness and cooperation level.

- Agreeableness (B5A): The level of friendliness of participant with the score range [2, 10].

High	Low
friendly	competitive
cooperative	critical
compassionate	Less cooperative
High agreeableness gives better teamwork and emotional regulation

- Conscientiousness

It defines discipline and organization.

- Conscientiousness (B5C): The level of organized nature. of the participant with the score range [2, 10].

High conscientiousness:

Organized, responsible, goal oriented, careful

People with high conscientiousness manage tasks better

- Neuroticism

It defines emotional instability / sensitivity to stress.

- Neuroticism (B5N): The level of nervousness of the participant with the score range [2, 10].

High Neuroticism:

Anxiety, mood swings, easily stressed

Higher neuroticism → more stress reactions.

- Openness

It defines creativity and openness to new experiences.

- Openness (B5O): The level of curiosity of the participant with the score range [2, 10].

High Openness: curious, imaginative, open to new ideas

Some studies show openness affects coping styles.

- What is N_P, N_E, N_F?

N usually refers to Neuroticism-related questionnaire scores.

Possible meaning (based on personality survey structure):

- N_P → Neuroticism Personality score
- N_E → Neuroticism Emotional factor
- N_F → Neuroticism Feeling/Facet score